What does it mean to be a hero?

It isn't about what they wear, how they look, or the powers they possess.

Rather, a hero is defined by the choices they make.

At times they will face temptations, and the lines will be blurred.

But regardless of the circumstances, a hero will always choose to do the right thing.

Not just for themselves, but for whom they protect and what they stand for.

A hero is detailed-oriented and will always abide firm moral and ethical codes.

They believe that rules are not made to be broken.

This is why we trust in our heroes...

... they are always there when we need them the most.

Always there to safeguard us from danger, ensuring we are kept safe at all times.

It is precisely the little things that make heroes who they are.

For in little things, they see the bigger picture. The greater good.

Equipped with a strong sense of responsibility, heroes are quick to identify problems and rectify them.

They believe any problem can be solved with kindness.

Sometimes being a hero means putting others before oneself for the good of the many;

Never for personal gain, and always an undying thirst to be selfless.

We all need heroes in our lives.

Those who are ready to help simply because it is the right thing to do.

At Zuellig Pharma, we are all heroes.
